

School of Tourism

The School Of Tourism at The University Of Queensland, Brisbane

The University of Queensland is renowned nationally and internationally for the quality of its teaching and research. It is a founding member of the national Group of Eight and is globally ranked 33 by the Times Higher Education Supplement and is a top 20 Asia-Pacific institution on the Shanghai Jiao Tong University world ranking.

UQ is the only member of the Group of Eight to feature comprehensive programs in tourism, leisure, and event and hospitality management. The School of Tourism was created in its present form and structure under the Faculty of Business, Economics and Law in 2000.

Today the School of Tourism is the only university in Australia to be accredited by the United Nations World Tourism Organization (UNWTO). The School is also a founding member of the UNESCAP Asia-Pacific Education and Training Institutes in Tourism, a member of the Pacific Asia Travel Association Education & Training Committee and a member of the prestigious TTF Australia, a national member-funded CEO forum for the Australian transport, property, tourism and infrastructure sectors.

The School of Tourism offers a sophisticated suite of undergraduate, postgraduate coursework and postgraduate research programs and retains an impressive list of 30 academic and research staff as well as adjunct professors who represent leadership across a range of tourism-related fields.

Further information

School of Tourism

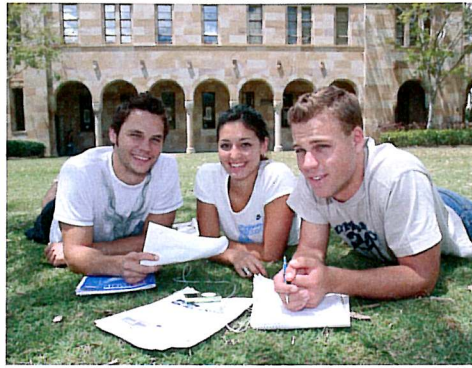

The University of Queensland

Brisbane Qld 4072

Email: tourism@uq.edu.au

Phone: +61 7 3346 8717 Fax: +61 7 3346 8716

www.tourism.uq.edu.au

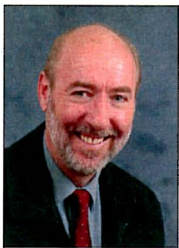

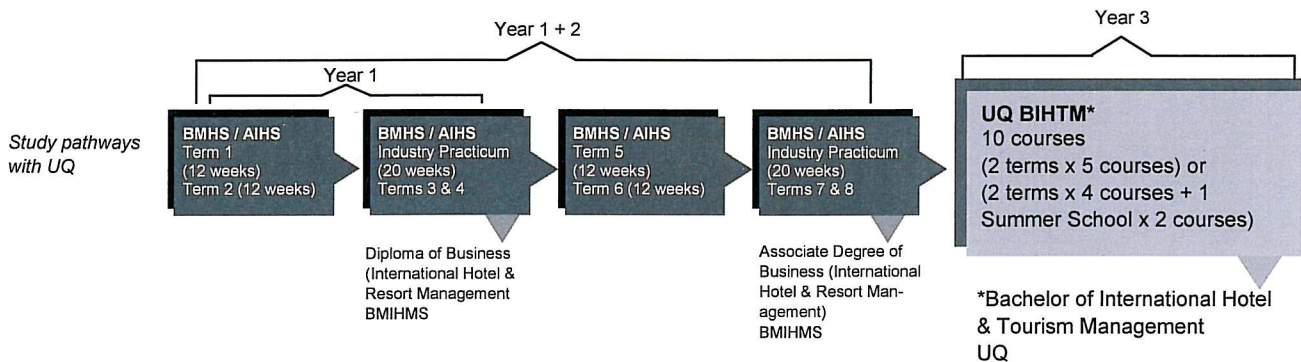

Finish with a UQ degree: your choice

After two years of study at Blue Mountains Hotel School (BMHS) or Australian International Hotel School (AIHS), you may decide to study towards a Bachelor of International Hotel & Tourism Management at The University of Queensland.

If you have successfully completed two years of study for the Associate Degree of Business (International Hotel & Resort Management) at BMHS or AIHS, you can take a further 10 courses of study at The University of Queensland St Lucia campus for a Bachelor of International Hotel & Tourism Management.

The UQ studies can be undertaken in two terms x 5 courses OR two terms x 4 courses plus one summer school term x 2 courses.

For more information about the School of Tourism, UQ and its courses, please visit www.tourism.uq.edu.au

Our strategic partnerships have brought benefits in both research and industry connectivity. The pathways between the School of Tourism, BMHS and AIHS give all students a unique opportunity to experience an industry-focused education in a hotel school environment combined with a leading tourism and hospitality program from a Top-50 world class university. Taking the UQ Bachelor of International Hotel and Tourism Management degree in their third year will give students a competitive edge in the tourism industry.

Professor Roy Ballantyne
Head of School, School of Tourism, UQ

