Most dinosaurs were much larger than reptiles that we have today. In addition, the legs of most reptiles today are on the sides of their body. However, dinosaurs’ legs were on the bottom of their body. In this way, they could stand up on their back legs. On top of that, today’s reptiles use the environment to control their body temperature. On the other hand, dinosaurs controlled their own body temperature. All of these facts show that dinosaurs and modern reptiles are actually quite different.

If your roommate’s cleaning habits don’t live up to your own personal standards, it can really make you frustrated. This is what you can do if you have to live with a messy roommate: Otherwise, you can send wrong messages to your roommate. One is that you don’t mind doing all the cleaning yourself. Another is that if she doesn’t clean up for herself, somebody else will. You can’t be your roommate’s mother or maid—cleaning up after her messes. She has to learn to take responsibility for herself.

One of the problems of traditional farming is that the growing seasons for crops can be limited. To solve this problem, a scientist suggested growing crops inside a tall building. Inside the building, crops could grow all year. Farmers would not have to worry about too much or too little rain, or about hot summers or freezing winters. There would be no need for chemicals to remove harmful insects.

She is leaning against the window frame, looking out at the beach in front of the house. In the distance down the beach, she sees her son, Matt, slowly coming towards the house. She loves these moments. She looks around the house and smiles. How much she wanted to live in a house near the beach! When Matt was only five or six years old, they would make a long trip from the city to the beach once a month. Now Matt can go out with her into the sea whenever he wants.

32. 다음 글의 주제로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

One of my friends grew up with five brothers and sisters. There were so many children that her family had little money for movies and other "going-out" activities. Instead, her parents filled the house with games of all kinds. All of the children grew up to be active game-players. Probably playing the games was for fun, but the end results were educational. My friend recalls learning how to spell over a Scrabble board and learning about money over Monopoly. She adds that it was fun to learn through playing those games.

This graph shows the number of hours married men and women spend per week doing their housework. In families without children, women work 30 hours per week. On the other hand, men do housework less than 20 hours. When they have children, the gap in their housework hours becomes smaller. The number of hours women work rises to 52 per week in families with one or two children. When there are three or more children in the family, women work over three times longer than men do.

34. 다음 글의 주장으로 가장 적절한 것은?

Good looks can be an advantage. However, you should not complain about yourself for what you received from your parents. Instead, you have to remember that beauty will not last long. That’s why it is important to develop your ability so that you will have tools for success later in life. It’s also important to concentrate on what you can do to make the world a better place. It is useless to worry that you are not beautiful enough.

① 자신의 선을 남의 맘으로 돌리지 말라. ② 불만을 망할 때는 타당한 근거를 제시하라. ③ 이웃을 위해 자신이 할 수 있는 일을 찾아라. ④ 부모에게 자녀에게 의존하려는 생각은 버리라. ⑤ 외모에 대해 불평하기보다는 능력을 계발하라.
The iris is one of the most popular garden flowers. There are hundreds of different kinds. These graceful flowers bloom soon after tulips do in spring. Irises are easy to grow. In most places, they need no protection from summer sun or winter cold. They do not need special kinds of soil. But the gardener who raises irises does have one job to do about every four years. When the plants become too crowded, they must be dug up and divided.

When we were children, it took us a very long time to get what we really wanted. Of course, we had to get a good grade to get it. Today, however, kids are growing up in a world full of goods. They are given all kinds of toy bears even before they know what the bear is. Most kids do not even have to wait anxiously for Christmas or their birthday to have what they want. When I walk into my children’s room, I wonder what to buy my four-year-old son for Christmas.

Francis Bacon said “Knowledge is power.” But knowledge alone is not power. Knowledge has value only in the hands of someone who has the ability to think well. People must learn how to think well to achieve their dreams. David J. Schwartz says, “Success is mainly affected by the size of people’s thinking.” Knowledge should go hand in hand with the ability to think well. [1]

Peter Tompkins and Christopher Bird wrote a book called The Secret Life of Plants. In the book, they described an experiment in which two seeds were planted in different places.

(A) So be careful when you are talking in front of your plants. They may be listening to you!

(B) While the plants were growing, one plant was given love and positive ideas. The other plant was given only negative ideas.

(C) After six months, the loved plant was bigger. Under the earth, it had more and longer roots; above the earth, it had a thicker stem and more leaves.

41. If you have an interest in fantasy novels, you have probably heard the names of two great authors, J. R. R. Tolkein and C. S. Lewis. Tolkein is known as the author of The Lord of the Rings and Lewis as The Chronicles of Narnia. However, only a few readers know about their friendship and influence on each other. Thanks to the encouragement of Lewis, Tolkein could complete his great work. Likewise, Tolkein and his works inspired Lewis to create Narnia, his fantasy world. Their friendship lasted until Lewis died in 1963.

3. Movies Based on Famous Novels
4. Importance of Writer’s Imagination
5. Friendship Between Two Great Authors

42. Real environmental change depends on us. We can’t wait for world leaders to take action. We must make changes ourselves and I believe we can. When we think of our environment, we have to think of our own responsibilities. We have to be more environment-friendly. We must not buy so many things. We must not throw away so many things. We should carry our own cups. We should eat natural food. Above all, we should get out into nature. Gandhi said many years ago that we must change ourselves first to change the world. Let’s first change ourselves and then change the world!

1. Find New Energy for Future!
2. The World Is Getting Smaller!
3. Have Respect for Your Elders!
4. Saving the Earth Starts from You!
5. World Leaders Have to Take Action Now!

43. On the newly swept beach is one seagull. The sound of sweet music greets us as we climb the white walled narrow street from the beach to the old town. We turn a corner and find a group of musicians in front of one of the old buildings above the sea. They are playing, rather well, something familiar by Beethoven. At one of the tables in a restaurant is a smiling baby in a stroller. Its mother is feeding it from a jar of baby food. The baby is interested in its food, but it is also interested in everything else that is going on.

44. I was scared of air travel. Friends said air travel is safer than highway travel, but it made no difference to me. ( ① ) I had read many news stories describing crash scenes and imagined these scenes happening to me. ( ② ) I didn’t want to miss such a great vacation. ( ③ ) So I spent two weeks imagining a smooth flight on a beautiful sunny day and an easy landing. ( ④ ) When the day arrived, I wanted to go more than any of my friends. ( ⑤ ) To everyone’s surprise, I got on the plane and flew, loving every minute of it.

45. When we walk into a supermarket, we can find many tropical fruits. But if we look at the labels, we see mangoes from India and pineapples from the Philippines. That usually means they have been flown from those countries so that we can eat them fresh! A problem rises here. Air flight increases global warming gases. Similarly, we can eat our summer fruits like watermelons and peaches in midwinter. This means a lot of fuel is burned up to grow them. Again, it adds to the global warming gases.

The more (A) of fruits we have, the more serious (B) becomes.

A month ago, my husband, Mark, had a heart attack and fell down at the airport on the way back from our trip. Fortunately, a man kept his heart beating for several minutes until a medical team arrived. I was very grateful to that man for saving my husband’s life. However, I didn’t have time to say thanks to him.

Then one day, my friend, Susan, asked me to let her daughter live with my family for a few months. Her daughter was going to attend the college near my house. I couldn’t say yes right away because I had to take care of my husband. He still needed some peace and quiet. Though I explained my situation, Susan repeated her request. I couldn’t refuse it.

A few days later, Susan and her husband brought their daughter to my house. While he was parking his car, I led Susan and her daughter to the living room. I prepared milk and some cookies, and we began to talk about her daughter’s college plans. At that moment, her husband came into the living room. When I turned to him, I found that he was the very person who had saved my husband at the airport. I pointed out Mark’s picture to him, and he recognized Mark and me. At last, I could get a chance to thank him.
