M: Hello, everyone. Welcome to this evening’s yoga class. Let’s begin. Stand on your mats, and take a deep breath. That’s right, Janice, a long, deep breath, from your stomach. Good. Now, everyone breathe out, and lie down on your back. On your back, not your front. That’s right. Now, lift your left leg and touch your left foot with your right hand. Don’t try too hard, Janice. Bend your leg if you want to. Left foot, right hand. That’s it. Well done, Janice.
M: Hey, Judy. How’s it going?
W: To tell the truth, Chang, I’m a little depressed.
M: Oh, really? Why’s that?
W: The final report is driving me crazy. My arms are coming up in bumps.
M: I see what you mean. When did you first notice them?
W: When I was taking a shower, this morning.
M: Haven’t you seen a doctor?
W: I want to finish the report first. I have to hand it in this evening.
M: Yeah, but if you don’t go to a doctor today, it’s only going to get worse.
W: I know, I know. Give me a break, won’t you?
M: Take it easy, Judy. I’m only trying to help.
M: Good evening, viewers. Welcome to the Terry Blake Show. Today the famous actress, Debi Chantal has agreed to give us an exclusive interview from her home. Good evening, Miss Chantal. Thank you for being with us today.
W: Don't mention it, Terry.
M: What are you doing these days? Anything special?
W: Well, you’ve probably heard that I’m working on a movie at the moment.
M: Is that the one about a famous jazz singer?
W: Yes. It’s an amazing story of pain and passion. I fell in love with the script the moment I saw it.
M: That sounds great. What are your plans after that?
W: I’d like to get out of the movie industry. I’m planning to do some charity work. I’m interested in helping children in Africa.
W: Well, Terry, I need to take a new direction in life.
W: This is a great present. I’m sure our parents will love it.
M: I agree. I think I made the right choice.
W: Let’s wrap it up with the anniversary card now.
M: Do we have any wrapping paper?
W: I thought you were going to get some with the present.
M: I am sorry. I forgot.
W: Could you go and get some now? We need to give them the present tomorrow morning.
M: Sure. What type shall I get?
W: How about something with flowers? Or with hearts.
M: OK. I’ll see what I can do. Maybe the store has some ribbons as well.
[Telephone rings]

W: Hello. I'd like to speak to Brian, please.
M: Sorry. He's at his sister's wedding right now.
W: Of course. How silly of me! I completely forgot.
M: Do you want to leave a message?
W: Oh, thank you. I'm Jodie, a classmate of his.
M: I think I've heard Brian mention your name.
W: Can you tell him that the books have arrived?
M: Sure. Let me write that down. Anything else?
W: Yes. They're twenty dollars each. He needs to give me sixty dollars altogether.
M: OK. I'll give him the message. Good-bye, Jodie.
[Telephone rings]

W: Hello.
M: Hello. Is that 7139?
W: Yes it is. Who’s calling?
M: It’s George! I’m a friend of Jenny’s.
W: Oh, George. I didn’t recognize your voice. This is Samantha.
M: Hi, Samantha. Can I speak to Jenny?
W: Didn’t you know she moved to the Admissions Office last week?
M: No, I didn’t. Do you have her new number?
W: It’s 2357. By the way, George, where are you working these days?
M: I’m in the Graduate School Office. You can reach me on 7159.
M: Nancy. What are you looking at?
W: Oh, hi. I’ve bought some New Year’s cards, and I’m wondering which one to send to my cousin.
M: You mean Amy, in Hong Kong?
W: Yes. She sent me such a lovely birthday card.
     I want to send her something special.
M: Any ideas so far? I like the one of a house in the snow.
W: I was thinking of something more festive.
M: Like the card of the girl in Korean traditional costume?
W: Yes, or the children playing the game. That’s really cultural.
M: How about the card with Chinese letters?
W: That’s good, but I think I’ll go for the New Year game.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>대화를 듣고, 여자가 보내리고 하는 카드를 고르시오.</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>M: Nancy. What are you looking at?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>W: Oh, hi. I’ve bought some New Year’s cards, and I’m wondering which one to send to my cousin.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>M: You mean Amy, in Hong Kong?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>W: Yes. She sent me such a lovely birthday card.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>I want to send her something special.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>M: Any ideas so far? I like the one of a house in the snow.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>W: I was thinking of something more festive.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>M: Like the card of the girl in Korean traditional costume?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>W: Yes, or the children playing the game. That’s really cultural.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>M: How about the card with Chinese letters?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>W: That’s good, but I think I’ll go for the New Year game.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
W: Darling. Have you been waiting long?
M: You know I have. The appointment was for 10:30.
W: Oh dear. I’m sorry I’m late. The meeting at the office went on longer than expected.
M: That’s what you always say. I’ve been waiting here for over an hour.
W: Please don’t be hard on me. It wasn’t my fault.
M: There’s always something that stops you from being on time.
W: Don’t say that. You know I’m doing my best.
M: Now we’re late for our son’s graduation.
W: We can still catch the ending if we hurry.
M: But we already missed the main part.
W: Hey, Barrie, look at this.
M: What is it, Nova?
W: Today’s newspaper says that killer bees are moving into the U.S. from Mexico.
M: Come on, Nova. You can’t be serious.
W: Yes, I am. Look! It has a photo of bees attacking a cow.
M: Hmm. Where do these bees come from?
W: South American bees were introduced into Mexico by farmers.
M: Why did they do that?
W: They thought the new bees would make more honey. However, they attacked and killed the native bees.
M: And now they’re moving into America.
W: This is another example of man interfering with nature.
W: As the chart shows, the number of people visiting museums increased slightly in 2000. Then it took a downward turn during the next year. After that it climbed again in 2002, to regain the level of the year 2000. In 2003, it rose very steeply. This trend reflects the introduction of the five day working week in 2003. Thanks to the longer weekend, people are now spending more leisure time in museums.
| | |
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th></th>
<th></th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>M:</td>
<td>Hello, Haley. I haven’t seen you for ages.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>W:</td>
<td>Hi, Ted. I don’t get much time to myself these days.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>M:</td>
<td>I heard you’d got a job. How’s it going?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>W:</td>
<td>Well, the good news is that I choose my own working hours.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>M:</td>
<td>And the bad news?</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>W:</td>
<td>The bad news is that there is too much work to do. I can’t see myself getting a vacation for a long time.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>M:</td>
<td>It sounds like hard work.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>W:</td>
<td>You said it. I’m seriously thinking of quitting.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>M:</td>
<td>Look on the bright side, Haley. This is just the beginning.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>W:</td>
<td>You’re right, Ted. It’s got to get better.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

11. 대화를 듣고, 여자가 자신의 직장에 대해 생각하는 장점과 단점을 바르게 짝지은 것을 고르시오. [3점]
W: Good afternoon. My name is Clare Brown. Thank you for inviting me here today to speak about a new highway. I think it should pass through our town. In addition to increased tourism, it will bring many new jobs. Our town will grow larger and richer as companies build new, pollution-free factories. More people will come to live here, so there will be more apartment buildings, schools, hospitals and department stores. Everyone will benefit from the new highway.

M: My name is Mario Forest. I agree that the new highway will bring in many new tourists. I also agree that the town will grow larger. However, I disagree about the pollution. Our green valley will become polluted by new factories. Is this what you want for your children and your children’s children?

12. 여자의 주장으로 가장 적절한 것은?

13. 여자의 의견에 대해서 남자가 동의하지 않는 부분은?
W: Thanks for coming with me to the bus station, Dennis.
M: No problem, Tina. I want to make sure you get away safely.
W: Let me check. I have my bus ticket and my purse.
M: And everything else is in your suitcase?
W: Sure. Now, we have an hour or so to wait, so let’s get a bite to eat.
M: Good thinking. I could do with a snack. I’ll just put your suitcase in a locker.
W: Fine. Do you need some coins?
M: No, it’s OK. I have some in my pocket.
W: Thanks again, Dennis, I don’t know what I would have done without you.
M: Excuse me.
W: Certainly. Is there something wrong?
M: I'm afraid you're sitting in my seat.
W: Are you sure? I checked it when I got here.
W: You're right. There must be a mistake.
M: Can I see your ticket?
W: Just a minute. Now where did I put it? Ah, here it is.
M: Let's have a look. Seat 18.
W: That's right.
M: Row B. That's down the front of the theater.
W: _______________________________
W: Hi, Dave. How was your camping trip to Smokey Hill last weekend?
M: It was terrible, Monica. You wouldn’t believe what I went through. The weather was really nice when I arrived, so I went hiking. Then I got lost. I had no idea where I was. When I found my way back to the campsite, I was really tired, so I went to sleep early. When I woke up, it was raining cats and dogs. I decided to leave for home early. It stopped raining after a while, but it became so foggy that I couldn’t see anything at all.
W: ________________________________
M: Kate recently had her final interview for a job as a flight attendant. Since then, she has been waiting for a week for news about her interview. She is becoming impatient and cannot concentrate on anything. Because of this, she is disturbing everyone else in the family. Her mother knows how much Kate wants the job, and she understands Kate’s anxiety. What would the mother probably say in this situation?

Mother: ________________________________

M: Kate recently had her final interview for a job as a flight attendant. Since then, she has been waiting for a week for news about her interview. She is becoming impatient and cannot concentrate on anything. Because of this, she is disturbing everyone else in the family. Her mother knows how much Kate wants the job, and she understands Kate’s anxiety. What would the mother probably say in this situation?

Mother: ________________________________