A day is replaced by night.

It’s as simple as that.

We face countless simple processes every day. They create regularity of our lives and make it more interesting. STAND creates products that complement our daily lives. They won't last forever. They won't save the world. But they will make your life much easier.
Simplicity happens
A sink and urinal are combined into a single product, creating a multifunctional plumbing device.
The standard TANDEM is equipped with a drain, trap and wall mounts.
To maximize the effectiveness of water conservation and hygiene, the product should be equipped with an infrared sensor faucet.
Stone mass technology results in a high surface quality.
While you are washing your hands, the water is reused to rinse the urinal placed under the sink. This saves water, time and space.
just stand!
