But I believe you should be careful about your safety, too. I'm worried because most of you don't wear a helmet. If you crash without a helmet on, there's a higher possibility that you'll be seriously hurt. Wearing a bike helmet could even save your life. So I urge you to protect yourself with appropriate safety equipment. Thank you.

M: Good morning, students! In the last class we discussed the definition of creative thinking and why it's necessary for us. Today we're going to talk about how we can improve it in our everyday lives. For example, whenever you're curious about something, just write it down and research it when you have the time. It'll help you build creative ideas later. Also, make the most of the things around you. Traditional channels such as textbooks and newspapers are good sources of getting knowledge. Magazines also can lead us to think in new ways because they deal with interesting topics and various stories about new worlds. Although many people think playing with toy blocks is just for fun, it can help with problem-solving as well as creativity. Anyone's creativity can be developed by following these tips.
