(W-B) Hi, what time does your store close tonight? 4.6.1. I need to get a birthday gift for my wife.

(W-B) We're open until seven P.M., and if you can't get to us today, we'll be open at eight o'clock tomorrow morning.

(W-B) I should be able to get there by seven—but in case I don't, 4.6.1. could you set aside an item for me?

(I can give you the item number.)

(W-B) No, I'm very sorry. We can't accept reserve requests over the phone because a cash deposit is required.

53-55
(W-B) Excuse me, do you know where our waiter is?

(W-A) I'd like to order some bread.

(W-A) No, I'm sorry. I'll see if I can find him for you.

(W-B) Have you been waiting long?

(W-A) Ten minutes. But I can see the restaurant is busy.

(W-B) I'm sorry, but we're at capacity. It's a busy evening. If you don't mind having a seat at the bar, we can seat you there.

(W-A) I'll take the bar. But when our waiter comes back, could you please seat me at a table?

(W-B) Of course, but we can't guarantee a table right away. We're expecting a large group shortly.

56-58
(W-A) The lumber company just called. 4.6.1. Their shipment is running late, so they won't be able to deliver the wood that we ordered this afternoon.

(W-B) So we aren't getting the wood we need to finish the floors. 4.6.1. We should order additional wood.

(W-A) Not today. 4.6.1. But we could start putting in the windows instead.

(W-B) Good idea. That way we won't get too far behind schedule.

59
(W-A) I can't believe I'm here on time! 4.6.1. My car wouldn't start this morning, and 4.6.1. I had to take the train, which usually takes about twenty minutes longer.

(W-B) It's a good thing you made it in. 4.6.1. The meeting is in half an hour. 4.6.1. I'm wondering if we should use the conference room instead of this office.

(W-A) You're right. Let's take the coffee and doughnuts and all the handouts over there.

(W-B) Okay, I'll do that. I'm sure the other guests will appreciate it.

(W-A) Thank you. It's always nice to make a good impression.

60
(W-A) It's here. Did you see it?

(W-B) Yes, it's in the box. 4.6.1. I'm checking it now.

(W-A) I'm sure you'll be pleased. It's a beautiful piece of furniture. 4.6.1. I hope it will last for many years.

(W-B) I'm sure it will. Thank you for your hard work. 4.6.1. I know this is going to be a big project.
Jennifer, how's your business going? I heard your restaurant moved to a new location a couple of months ago.

Oh, Mike, hi. Yes, it's near several hotels and businesses in the city, so we've got a lot of customers at lunchtime.

Oh, that's great. I should stop by sometime.

Please do! I just hired a new chef from Italy last week, and he's been doing a great job so far.

I heard you saw Mountain Wild last weekend. How did you like it?

It was wonderful! I went with Martha from the human resource office, and we both thought it was the best movie we've seen in a while.

So you would recommend it? I'm going on my day off this Friday.

You should. As someone who loves hiking in the mountains, you would just love the breathtaking shots of Colorado.

Just came back from a hike yesterday. It's been a lot of fun. The trails are now open for the season.

Day off is not bad. Hiking and breathtaking views all in one. I usually Ariadne's shot (shot) and then for the brain to make sense of it all.

Are you doing any recording this month?

Aye, I am. I'm going to make a letter of recommendation for you.

The new restaurant is opening soon, and I need to write a letter of recommendation. It'll be opening in a few weeks.

I'm sure it will be great. Good luck with the new location.

I appreciate your support. It's been a challenging time for everyone.

Mia, have you been to the exhibition in the museum?

Yes, I have. It was amazing. The art and the architecture were incredible.

What did you think of the exhibition?

I loved it. The artist's choice of colors and materials was really unique.

In the meantime, we encourage you to visit the food stands, which are now open. Please note there are no refunds, but you can exchange your ticket for a future game by visiting the box office next to the main gate.

Thank you for your support. We're excited to offer our unique menu options. It's been a challenging time for everyone.

I appreciate your support. It's been a challenging time for everyone.

An additional question for you:

What is your go-to dish on the menu?

My go-to dish is the seared tuna with wasabi and a side of grilled vegetables.

That sounds like a good idea. Let me go up to my room and get my program, and I'll meet you back here in a lobby in five minutes.

I'm sorry to announce that tonight's football game will be postponed by one hour due to heavy rain conditions. We expect to start at six P.M. In the meantime, we encourage you to visit the food stands, which are now open. Please note there are no refunds, but you can exchange your ticket for a future game by visiting the box office next to the main gate.

Good morning, Ms. Stockton. This is Matt Stein from Ocean Digital Equipment. I’m calling about the order you placed yesterday. Before we ship your computer to you, we’d like to know if you’d be interested in ordering a flat-screen monitor right now, and I can add one onto your order for just an extra $150. Also, because this is your tenth purchase from Ocean Digital Equipment, you can order a free item from our catalog. This is a special deal for our frequent customers like you. I’d like to try to reach you again later today to discuss this in more detail.

Thank you, Mr. Stein. The computer is working fine, but the monitor would be a great addition. We currently have a flat-screen monitor that would work well for our needs. Could you provide more details about the monitor options?

Welcome to the Oakbridge Museum of Art. My name is Josh Wilson, and I will be showing you around today. Throughout the museum you will see many examples of the very old and the very new. For example, how many of you know that this is the oldest building in the city? Would it surprise you to hear, in that case, that we’ve got a very modern security system? And think about how the artwork is organized. Most of you know that the museum has three floors. Did you know that all of our artwork is displayed according to date? That’s right. The oldest works are on the ground floor, and the newest works are on the top floor. We will start our tour at the Highlights of the Museum exhibit, which is near the rear entrance to the ground floor.

Of course, we have more information to give you, but let’s get started. You’ll find that our flat-screen monitor is a great addition.

City traffic came to a standstill in Rivendale this morning after a tree collapsed onto an electrical line and cut off power to the city’s traffic signals. During the power outage, police officers were stationed at all the major intersections to manage the flow of traffic. Rivendale’s business district was the hardest hit area, with cars backed up on all the major roadways. By noon the tree had been removed and power restored. The police chief commented that he was glad the problem happened today rather than tomorrow when the holiday parade will take place.

We came to a standstill earlier this morning, but then we had a big intersection to manage. A large tree fell on an electrical line, cutting off power to our business district. The police chief was very happy that the problem happened today rather than tomorrow.

What are our options? (A) I’ll take it now (B) maybe later (C) I don’t need it (D) I’m not sure yet

We lost our power. (A) turned off the lights (B) called the power company (C) used our cell phones (D) sat in the dark

The city traffic came to a standstill this morning. I had to pay for my parking and didn’t get to work until 9 am.

As journalists, you may someday travel around the world to report on news stories. I’ve been a newspaper reporter for four decades now, and when you report from another country, you want to learn everything you can about where you are reporting from. But what do you do when you don’t know how to start on your first story in a new country? That still happens to me even after 40 years in journalism. I recommend starting at the nearest newspaper office—talk to local reporters and editors. Your international colleagues can give you important background for your story.

86 Good evening, Dr. Yemaguchi. This is Jerry Smith calling to let you know your car is now ready for pick up. I’m sorry the car wasn’t ready yesterday as promised, but there was a part that needed to be specially ordered, and it took two days to get here. We’re closing in five minutes, but we’ll open tomorrow morning at seven A.M. and stay open until six P.M. We’re also open the whole afternoon on Saturday. Sorry, for the inconvenience.

87 In today’s business news, Patel Enterprises announced a drop in profits of seven percent in its fourth quarter. According to the company’s owner, the loss was less than likely due to an increase in the price of steel. Patel is the largest construction company in the area and has been hurt by increases in the price of building materials, such as steel. This quarter’s loss of seven percent makes Patel a very attractive candidate for purchase by other companies. In fact, Dhir Industries, Patel’s main competitor, has expressed interest in purchasing Patel for thirty-seven million dollars. It remains to be seen whether the owner of Patel will take this offer.

88 The drop in cash reserves by Patel could have a serious impact on the company’s ability to finance new projects. Patel’s financial situation is critical, and it appears that the company is in need of external funding. The reduction in cash reserves is due to a decrease in sales and an increase in costs. Patel must find a way to increase its cash reserves or face the possibility of bankruptcy. Patel’s financial situation is critical, and it appears that the company is in need of external funding. Hello, my name is Flora Lim, and I am the human resources manager of Emmons. I'd like to congratulate you on your new job and welcome you to the company. Today's orientation should last about four hours. This morning, you will hear presentations by the department supervisors, who will describe the various functions and responsibilities of each department. In the afternoon, you will meet Amanda Wilson, my colleague in human resources, who will help you complete the new employment forms and explain your benefits options.

I know that some of you also have questions about your vacation time – Ms. Wilson should be able to answer all of those questions. OK, so now let me turn this over to our department supervisors.

The Longstone Shoe Company has decided to build its new production plant in South Valley because of its well-developed transportation network. The highways in the area were recently widened, the airport was expanded, and there are plans to upgrade the railroad tracks and nearby port. The company feels that a good transportation system is necessary to make sure that materials reach the factory easily and that goods are shipped out quickly. Longstone's chief executive, John Davis, announced that he intends to hire the most workers for the new factory from local towns and cities.
