1 대화를 듣고, 여자가 구입할 물건을 고르시오.

W: Excuse me, but what is the difference between this and that?

M: Oh, you're looking for arm chairs.

W: Yes. What makes this arm chair much more expensive than that one?

M: Hmm... That's because of the carvings on the back, legs, and arm rests. The carvings on the back rest are very beautiful, aren't they?

W: Yes, it looks antique-like. But I want a more comfortable one.

M: You mean a chair with cushions on the back and seat?

W: Exactly, and I want a cheaper one.

M: Then, here is a perfect one for you. This oval back is covered in a textured fabric for comfort. And without the carvings, it is rather cheap, but light and simple.

W: Okay, I'll go for it.

2 대화를 듣고, 남자의 심정으로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

M: Oh, Joan. My life is very terrible these days.

W: Derek, you don't look very good. What's the matter with you?

M: I have some problems in my business. As you know, computer prices are cheaper than ever before this year.

W: Yeah, but I think the overall economic situation will get better and better.

M: Probably, but not for the computer business.

W: Oh, you must be very unhappy.

M: It's worse. I am very down these days.

W: Cheer up! Things will get better soon.

M: I hope so, but I don't think things will be that optimistic.

3 다음을 듣고, 무엇에 관한 설명인지 고르시오.

M: It is a region of space, where gravity is so powerful that you can never escape, no matter how fast you go. Not even if you travel at the speed of light. Most of them are remote from our planet. They are thought to be formed by a collapsed star. This star is absolutely huge. When this star explodes, its surface layers spread outwards, but its core is pressed inwards, and billions upon billions of tons of the star dust crushed smaller and smaller, until the whole star is pressed to a single microscopic point. And from the remains of the dying star, they are born.

4 대화를 듣고, 남자가 오늘 할 일로 가장 적절한 것을 고르시오.

W: Steve, why did you become an athlete?

M: Well, I loved running at school and doing long jumps. When I left school, I got a job in an office but I hated working inside. I didn't like sitting down all day.

W: So what did you do?

M: I left the office job and I started working in a sports center. I enjoyed helping people with their exercise programs.

W: But in a sports center you're inside most of the day, aren't you?

M: Well, I don't mind being inside if I can move!

W: Are you training a lot now, Steve?

M: Oh, yes. I began training a lot about a year ago. I want to be in the next Olympics!

W: Wow, really? That's great! What are you going to do later today?

M: I'll go training at the gym. I really enjoy it.

W: Well, good luck with the Olympics, Steve!

M: Thanks!

M: So what? OK, he's 16 and three days.
W: Well, that's not on, Tom. If he's 16, he's not under 16.
M: Look, Henna. Nick has to play. If he doesn't play, then nobody can play. We haven't got enough players for the team without him.

M: These days Julie felt that she put on some weight. Watching a home shopping program on TV, she ordered an exercise machine which has multiple functions. When the machine was delivered, she had to set it up herself. She tried several times, but she failed. When her husband, Jacob, got home from work, she asked him to set it up for her. Jacob read the manual, but the instructions in the manual were too complex. He could not understand what it said at all. He thought Julie could get some help from the company that sold the machine. In this situation, what would Jacob most probably say to Julie?
